

MOZART WITHOUT A MAESTRO!

An Orchestra without a Conductor?

How is That Possible?

You are invited!

Saturday afternoon, November 22 beginning at 3:00 PM.

El Cerrito Community Center
7007 Moeser Lane
El Cerrito, CA 94530

In a return engagement, Lucas Valley Chamber Orchestra will perform Mozart without maestro and more; works by Elgar and Haydn will be featured on the program as well:

1. Edward Elgar, Serenade for Strings.
2. W. A. Mozart, Clarinet Concerto, with soloist Alan Shonkoff.
3. Joseph Haydn, Symphony No. 99

A self-directed community orchestra, Lucas Valley Chamber Orchestra (LVCO) is an ensemble inspired by the renowned Orpheus Chamber Orchestra of New York, a recording professional group which has been operating successfully without a conductor for more than forty years. Unlike Orpheus, LVCO members are all volunteer players. LVCO performances are presented as public service and funds received benefit local community programs.

Presented by the City of El Cerrito Arts & Culture Commission, Admission is free of charge.

Donations will be accepted to benefit El Cerrito Recreation Department's David Hunter Memorial Youth Scholarship Program, providing access to recreational programs for disadvantaged children and youth in our community.
