Wednesday: February 8, 2017

1:15pm

ClearCaptions is an advanced telephone captioning service. This new technology is dedicated to developing fast, easy and life-changing communications for individuals with any form of hearing loss. The only requirements are:

- A.) Any form of hearing loss (self-certified)
- B.) Internet for the home (wired or wireless)
- C.) A land line phone service.

The phone works like a regular phone, except you see text of what the other person is saying. It includes an Answering Machine with captioning capabilities during play-back, and a Speaker phone with up to 50 decibel amplification. There are also 3 tone settings, and you can adjust the font size of the captioning on the screen.
