Presenter: Mitch Oshinsky, Community Development Director; Brian Fenty, Building Official, and Dwayne Dalman, Economic Development Project Manager.

Speakers: David Schwartz, Earthquake Geologist, United States Geological Service (USGS), Menlo Park, spoke in support of the proposed ordinance. Mr. Schwartz stated that within the next 30 years there is a 63% chance of a 6.7 magnitude or larger earthquake along one of the major Bay Area faults. The USGS has estimated that there is a 31% chance of a 6.7 magnitude or larger earthquake along the Hayward/Rogers Creek fault. Un-reinforced Masonry (URM) and Soft-Story buildings have a major impact on who lives and who doesn't live [during an earthquake]. Dr. Schwartz commended the City Council for moving forward with the URM ordinance

Jeanne Perkins, Consultant for the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) Earthquake and Hazards Program, commended El Cerrito for initiating the proposed URM ordinance and being a part of ABAG's initiative to build a disaster resistant region. Ms. Perkins provided several reasons why retrofitting is a good idea.

Khamarin Sem, El Cerrito, stated that he is the son of parents of a small business who would love to retrofit their building but don't have the $155-200,000 in the bank to do this work. Mr. Sem asked for a postponement to work on the financing.

Letitia Moore, El Cerrito, spoke in support of the proposed ordinance and urged the Council and property owners to make safety a priority and noted that the URM program has been discussed at the Planning Commission and the City Council for the last 10-13 years.

Vincent Wheeler, Hercules, identified himself as a business that does business in El Cerrito. Mr. Wheeler expressed his opposition to the ordinance and said that the ordinance would cause businesses to go out of business and noted the difficulty in the ability for a small business to obtain financing in this economic climate.

Ray O'Dea, Employee of Granters, stated his opposition to the proposed ordinance.

Chris Fuller, Employee of an El Cerrito business, expressed his concern with becoming unemployed and his opposition to the proposed ordinance.

Tony Wise, El Cerrito, asked the City Council to vote no on the proposed ordinance and expressed concerns with the economy, the lack of a financing program and the difficulty businesses are presented with in procuring financing. Mr. Wise also stated that the ordinance is inequitable and no one has shown any concern for the business owners, their employees or their families, just the safety of the buildings.

Luis Lopez, El Cerrito, asked the City Council to postpone adoption of the ordinance.

Phil Martien, El Cerrito, congratulated the City Council on its past history of making safety a priority with the construction of City Hall and its role in the region in the event of a disaster, coordinating with schools on safety and seismic upgrades and expressed his support for the proposed ordinance.

Joan MacQuarrie, Building Official, Berkeley, expressed support for the proposed ordinance and stated that retrofitting is the right thing to do for community safety, stated that the City was proposing the right standard which is adequate to prevent collapse.

Roger Parra, El Cerrito, resident and structural engineer, expressed his support for the proposed ordinance and stated that it would be irresponsible not to confront the earthquake hazard.

Janet Sowers, El Cerrito, resident and geologist, said she is very aware of earthquake hazards, particularly in El Cerrito, and expressed her support for the proposed ordinance.

Charles Tai, El Cerrito, owner, reported that he had closed for several days because business is slow, and said he did not mind retrofitting his building but the timing is not right and encouraged the Council to focus on training business owners.

Keith Knudsen, Albany, geologist, stated that he helped the City of Albany implement their URM ordinance. Mr. Knudsen congratulated the Council for considering the proposed ordinance and reducing the risk to the city's residents and encouraged the Council to look at other buildings that present hazards..

Richard Denio, El Cerrito, resident and structural engineer, expressed his support for the proposed ordinance and asked the Council to consider extension of the time limits or come up with financing.

Mayor Potter disclosed that she had met with Marty Kalisky and Tony Wise in regard to the proposed ordinance.

Action: Moved, seconded (Cheng/Lyman) and carried unanimously to approve by title, waive further reading and approve introduction of Ordinance 2009-05 with minor revisions to the ordinance recital and as amended on the floor to provide direction to staff to return to Council with an ordinance that allows for an individual hardship extension which would mirror the historic exemption on a case by case basis for each business and extend specific calendar dates identified in Section 16.32.050 by six months.

The City Council also directed staff to prepare an amendment to the master fee schedule to waive permit fees associated with commercial building unreinforced masonry (URM) retrofits, to be presented to the Council in Spring 2010. Second reading scheduled for October 19, 2009.
